

Hum

A Timeless Journey to the World's Smallest Town

Discover the charm of Hum, officially known as the smallest town in the world. Stroll along its cobbled streets lined with stone houses and quaint local shops where tradition lives on. Learn about the ancient Glagolitic script, one of the oldest known Slavic alphabets, and hear the story behind Hum's famous biska brandy, made from mistletoe and passed down through generations.

Enjoy sweeping views of the surrounding vineyards and olive groves before visiting the local museum, where everyday objects reveal the history and rhythm of life in traditional Istrian villages.

Conclude your visit with a relaxing meal in a welcoming local tavern. Savor authentic Istrian dishes paired with warm homemade bread and rich extra virgin olive oil for a truly memorable experience.
